

DOM - Poisoned, 2007,
distribution : phontastic.ch
Official release : Nov. 17 2007

BIO - SHORT VERSION :

DOM's pop-rock language came from more than 20 years of musical passion. He played classical piano in his early years but soon turned to pop-rock music, working with various artists and bands as a composer, multi-instrumentalist, arranger or leader.

DOM completed his first singer-songwriter project in 2007. He followed a proven formula offering pop-rock songs with their classical raw elements : edgy guitars, strong bass and groovy drums topped with melodic vocals and catchy hooks all delivering in a very personal manner.

For his solo project, DOM also co-wrote songs with lyricists and composers in Switzerland, Canada and USA through a Songwriter Internet community (www.songu.com).

DOM's songs are a subtle mixture of power and smoothness, warmth and punch, tension and relief in a great pop-rock package ... The best thing to do, in the end, is to listen to DOM's music and lyrics and experience the magic for yourself.
